FIG. 8.—Relative wage premium and relative employment of high- versus low-education workers. Firms are divided into 100 cells on the basis of mean log value added per worker in 2005–9, with equal numbers of person-year observations per cell. A color version of this figure is available online.